Observer, U. S. A.

THE DEM. REP. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, Wilmington, N. C., April 30, 1874.

The members of the Republican County Committee are hereby requested to meet at the City Court Room in this city on Saturday, the 10th of May, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the transaction of important business.

GEO. Z. FRENCH, Ch'n.
J. H. GERKEN, Sec'y.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost a beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would, no doubt, have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

april 30—d6 w1.

BADLY INJURED.—Mr. James Fleet, who, it will be remembered, was so badly injured about twelve months ago from falling down the hold of a vessel, by which he was made almost a cripple for life, met with another accident on Wednesday afternoon at the Carolina Central Railway Depot. It seems that his horse became frightened by the yard engine, and endeavored to run away, but Mr. Fleet held him in until the earth broke, which caused him to fall on the hard ground, severely injuring his spine. So badly was he hurt that he was placed in a boat and carried near his home, when a litter was made, upon which he was borne from the boat to his house, where he now lies, suffering very much.

Mr. Fleet has the sympathy of our whole people, who will be glad to know of an improvement in his condition this morning.

CORRESPONDENCE.

For the Post.

MR. EDITOR: The names of several gentlemen in the Republican party in this Judicial District are spoken of for Solicitor. We think that Judge Russell is the choice of the people for the position which he now so ably fills; that he is the right man in the right place, and have no doubt of his re-election. The names of Col. Cantwell, the present incumbent, Thomas H. Sutton, Esq., of Bladen, and Capt. Stanley of Columbus, are mentioned for Solicitor, and we now propose the name of Col. Nat. McLean of Robeson, whom we will urge before the Convention. It would be gratifying to see either of the gentlemen filling the office, but Colonel McLean is our first choice. He was one of the first of this section to give his adhesion to the principles of the Republican party, and never has asked for an office.

Let the nominee be whom he may we will do our duty, and no doubt success will crown our labors in August. So let us begin our work and be ready in time.

VOX POPULI.

Lumberton, N. C., April 27, 1874.

NOT many vessels in port.

THE man Charles Ryburg has not as yet been arrested.

LOTS of pic nics, excursions and Queen of May's to-day.

THE Son's of Mount Zion excursioned it to Waccamaw Lake to-day.

WE learn that a new Lodge of Red Men will be organized in this city to-night.

MR. W. H. YOPP is authorized to collect and receipt for bills due the POST.

PRIME cuts for steak or roast of stall fed beef at L. Solomon's, on Second between Market and Dock streets, at prices to suit the times. 1t

EN ROUTE.—Hon. Wm. A. Richardson, Secretary of the Treasury, and lady, registered at the Purcell House last night. They left this morning for Charleston.

PARADE.—The several colored fire companies paraded through the streets this morning, headed by a band of music. They will go down to Greenfield, when target shooting will be indulged in.

A CHANGE.—Rev. W. J. Parkinson has secured Walnut Hall, Brooklyn, where hereafter, until further notice, the services of the First M. E. Church will be held instead of at Temperance Hall, where until now his people have worshiped.

DOWN.—We learn that there are three or four persons lying prostrate on the floor of the colored Baptist church, on the corner of Fifth and Campbell streets, in which condition they have been for the past four or five days and nights.

THE Republicans of Abbottsburg, Bladen county, organized a Club on the 28d of April, and the following named gentlemen were elected officers:

President—James Cashwell.
Vice President—W. H. Williams.
Secretary—R. H. Richardson.
Treasurer—James Brown.
Executive Committee—J. W. Buie, John Burrett, Stephen Adkinson.

NEW YACHT.—Mr. Walter Coney has purchased a beautiful yacht called the Benj. F. Sparks. She was built in Philadelphia, and has never been upon the waters, being bran and spanking new. She was brought here on yesterday by the steamship Pioneer, and is destined to engage in our coming regattas, and if she is as fast as she is beautiful, will no doubt be the victor on each and every occasion.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Before Justice Cassidey to-day—Mary E. Ryburg and Wilson Muzon had a hearing, the former charged with arson and perjury and the latter with being accessory.

No other statements were produced than have already been published.—Mrs. Ryburg was bound over in the sum of $600 for her appearance at the next term of the Superior Court to answer to the charges of arson and perjury. Wilson Muzon was remanded to jail in default of giving bail.

Harbor Master's Report of number of vessels arrived during the month of April, 1874:

Steamers,	19
Barques,	13
Brigs,	7
Schooners,	23—62

Aggregate tonnage, 23,652.

Aggregate Foreign tonnage, 5,861.

Pilots report of soundings on Bars and Rips:—New Inlet, 6 feet 6 inches, Rip, 11 ft. low water. At Western Bar and Rip the sea was too heavy to get the correct soundings, but there was about the same water as at last report.

B. G. BATES, Harbor Master.

THE OPERATTA LAST NIGHT.—Another immense audience assembled at the Opera House last night, to witness the second, and last performance of this most beautiful operetta. If the first entertainment was good, last night's was simply superb, and Mr. James Brown and the ladies deserve much credit for their consummate taste and skill in getting up and presenting to our citizens one of the most magnificent entertainments that has ever been produced in our city. We know that they will be greeted with another, and probably a still larger audience, should they determine to reproduce it.

Mayor's Court,

His Honor W. P. CANADAY, Mayor, presiding.

Only one solitary case was disposed of this morning before this tribunal.

George W. Hill, for disorderly conduct on the streets, was fined $5 and costs for his frivolous amusement.

THE following are the names of the persons, together with the charges and terms of sentence, as passed upon them by Judge Russell, to-day, viz:

PENITENTIARY.

Wm. Giles, highway robbery, 20 years.
Aaron Willis, larceny, 10 years.

WORK HOUSE.

George Owens, larceny, 2 years.
Dennis Miller, larceny, 8 months.
Hardy Williams, larceny, 4 months.
James Armstrong, larceny, 6 months.
Elijah Martin, attempt at rape, 3 years.
Ben Williams, larceny, 12 months.
Andrew Devane, larceny, 6 months.

A SWINDLER.—The Milton Chronicle says: "We see from the Wilmington POST that there is a Doctor Ballou stopping there, who professes to be a universal cure-all. The doctor has recently been operating in Canada, South Carolina and Florida. Where will he turn up next?

It is true that the doctor has been operating in Wilmington, in fact he oprrated the POST out of some $15 for advertising, and suddenly took his departure for parts unknown. We have the doctor's cut, which he left behind, a fac simile of his woebegone physiognomy, which he can obtain upon application at this office.

Be on the lookout for the swindler.

PATRON'S OF HUSBANDRY.—Capt. J. C. McMillan, State Deputy, organized "Rural Grange" at Trimble's Mills, Duplin county, on Wednesday last, with the following officers:

J. C. Trimble—Master.
S. C. Jones—Overseer.
Stratton Burton—Lecturer.
Jeremiah Lanier—Steward.
Ed. Lanier—Assistant Steward.
Raford Lanier—Chaplain.
Watson Burton—Treasurer.
Dr. J. W. McNeill—Secretary.
James W. Lanier—Gate Keeper.
Miss Mary Burton—Ceres.
Miss Lizzie Trimble—Flora.
Miss Emma Burton—Pomona.
Miss Allie Trimble—Lady Assistant Steward.

EXONERATED.—The boy William ——, who was charged with having extracted about $30 in currency, from the pocket-book of the Rev. Mr. W. A. Linn, while engaged in shaving him, at a barber shop on Market street, about 7½ o'clock, a. m. Wednesday, was tried before Justice Cassidey this morning, and as no proof as to his guilt was established, he was discharged and exonorated from all suspicions.

It seems that the Rev. Mr. Linn, who is in attendance at the Lutheran Synod, now in session in this city, and who is stopping at the residence of L. A. Hart, Esq., had his pocket-book, containing $30 in currency, upon retiring for the night, and not having any need for money, he did not examine the book until he arose from the chair in the barber shop, when, feeling for it, he found it not in the usual pocket, but in another one, when opening it, he discovered that some person had abstracted every cent.

Consequently, through the urgent solicitation of many friends, who suspicioned the boy as having perpetrated the theft, he was arrested and taied before Justice Cassidey this morning, and as it was proven that it was an utter impossibility to rob any person's pocket while sitting in one of the barbers' chairs, and as no proof could be produced regarding the guilt of the boy, he was dischargad, as has already been mentioned.

Mr. Linn, we understand, accounts for the robbery of his money, by some scoundrel, who endeavored to force an entrance into the residence of L. A. Hart, Esq., the night previous, during the prevalence of the thunder storm, a fact which was spoken of in the papers, but it now seems that the thief must have, in reality, entered the house and purloined the contents of the reverend gentleman's pocket-book.

The Saturday Review tells of a Scotch clergyman who quoted a text of Scripture in his prayer, and added: "For that, O Lord, is the correct translation of the passage."

A Sorrow of the Sanctuary.

All the pews in our church were painted and varnished during the past month, and while fixing Dr. Clamm's pew the workmen accidentally left a large splotch of varnish on the back of it. Last Sunday Dr. Clamm's son, Johnny, had his hair pulled once or twice during service by Bullet's boy in the next pew in the rear.

After a while young Clamm became quiet and placed his head right against this one mass of undried varnish, while he amused himself reading the Ten Commandments upon the wall just back of the pulpit. Presently he attempted to move, but the varnish had got into his hair and held him tight.—After making one or two desperate, but ineffectual efforts to release himself, he became very angry, and supposing that Bullet's boy was holding him, he shouted out, "Let go o' my hair! Let go o' my hair, I tell you!"

The minister paused just as he had entered upon the consideration of "thirdly," and the congregation looked around in amazement, just to see young Clamm with his head in statu quo, aiming dreadful blows with his fist at some unseen person behind him. And every time he struck out in this manner he screamed, "I'll put a head on you after church. I'll go for you, Bill Bullet, when I ketch you alone! Let go o' my hair, I tell you, or I'll mash your nose," etc., etc.

The deacon, who came running up, thought the boy had the nightmare and was talking in his sleep; and old Mrs. Jones, in the pew in front screamed for the doctor, under the impression that Clamm, junior, was involved in a series of frightful convulsions, while Bullet's dog sat up at the end of the pew, looking as solemn as if the sermon had made a deep impression on him. Finally, the sexton took out his jack knife and sawed enough of Mr Clamm's hair to release him, and then dragged him out into the vestibule, while the victim kept glancing around at Bullet's boy, and striking his fist at that urchin as if to indicate that he cherish deadly designs upon young Bullet. The contest, however, has been averted by an explanation, and we were glad to see, on Thursday, young Clamm playing hop-scotch with Bullet's boy, in apparent forgetfulness of the sorrows of the sanctuary.—Danbury News.

New Names for an Old Infirmity.

When Macready, the actor, visited this country he found many things to puzzle and perplex him, for he was as precise and angular as Mr. Grewgious. The idioms and eccentricities of the Yankees were beyond his comprehension. At one of our theatres, where he was performing an engagement, he had occasion to find much fault with the supporting actors, who were a particularly free-and easy set. Going to the manager one day, he said:

"Mr. Manager, you have deceived me, sir, you have told me that which is not true, sir!"

"Bless me!" cried the manager, in surprise, "how so?"

"About your actors, sir. Did you not tell me that Mr. A—— was on high?"

"Yes."

"And that Mr. S—— had a touch of the tangle foot!"

"Ay, that was what I said."

"And in explanation Mr. B——, you told me that he had a snake in his boot?"

"I certainly—did."

"Well, sir," announced the great tragedian, inmost stern and indignant manner. "I find upon critical examination, that these men are all drunk!—All drunk!"

An Elective Judiciary.

It is no uncommon thing to hear the sentiment expressed that Judges, at least, should be appointed, and not elected. The reason given for this opinion is most curious. It is that Judges might prostitute their functions and powers in order to secure a second or third election. This may be used as an argument against the right of suffrage, for if a Judicial officer should do this why should not an Executive or a Legislator.

If the people cannot be trusted to select their Judiciary there is then an end of elections. The nation which cannot exercise as wise a discrimination when called on to elect Judicial officers as any others, are decidedly fools, are incapable of securing good servants, and deserve severe masters. They are fit creatures for a despotism, and sooner or later will enjoy one.

The sentiment, however, seems fixed in the minds of many. Many good and some indifferent Judges have been on the bench in North Carolina by appointment. The bad are forgotten, and the memory of the good is cherished to the extent of believing that the system under which they exercised their functions was as good as themselves.

Says the Raleigh News: "There are no prisoners now in our jail from this county. Its inmates are one U. S. prisoner and the two condemned men from Johnston county. Lee Dunlap, who ought to have had his neck broken long ago, is the United States prisoner and Blalock and Collins are the condemned men from Johnston county. The two latter are to be hung, we believe, on the 22d of next month. Lee Dunlap, col., perpetrated a cold blooded murder on a white man in Charlotte some three or four years ago and has thus far escaped a richly merited gibbet through the instrumentality of government officials."

Lee Dunlap owes his being alive to a law which was passed to prevent just such prejudice as the above from going into the jury box on his trial.

The Sumner Eulogies.

From the large number of eloquent and studied eulogies upon Charles Sumner we select those of Mr. Thurman and Mr. Anthony as having most nearly the character of independent judgment upon a man whose career was too marked and aggressive to secure a just verdict from his contemporaries:

MR. THURMAN'S REMARKS.

Mr. Thurman said he became acquainted with Charles Sumner five years ago, and a friendship sprung up between them which had never been marred by the slightest circumstance, notwithstanding the differences between them politically. He therefore felt no hesitation in paying a personal tribute to his deceased associate. Mr. Sumner perhaps made a mistake in placing the ideal above the practical, and sometimes overlooked things which more practical men would have seen. We all remember his immeasurable demand on Great Britain during the war, and his great public services. Mr. Sumner loved discussion, and was a determined opponent of every attempt to limit debate. The speaker remembered Mr. Sumner's last words to him very well. A bill had just been defeated, and Mr. Sumner said to him: "Thurman, this shows the value of discussion; had debate been cut off, this bad measure would have passed." He spoke often, but no one was a more courteous listener than he. Mr. Thurman paid a graceful tribute to Mr. Sumner's personal qualities, and said that in the social circle he was never known to introduce an unpleasant topic of conversation, and whenever anyone else was thoughtless enough to do so, Mr. Sumner was the first to change the subject. He could talk with his opponent upon political subjects without giving offense. Never vulgar in conversation, his amiability and politeness were worthy of our pride and admiration. Mr. Sumner had been called an egotist. He (Mr. Thurman) believed him a modest man. What man ever achieved success over almost insurmountable obstacles, without some confidence in his own powers? In concluding, Mr. Thurman referred to Mr. Sumner's eloquent eulogy in the Senate of Senator Davis, of Kentucky. He (Mr. Thurman) was but following that example, and over his grave pronounced him great in learning, invariably polite, and wholly unassailable in his character for spotless integrity. More, said Mr. Thurman, Mr. Sumner would not ask me to say.

MR. ANTHONY'S REMARKS.

Mr. Anthony said: Mr. President, I can add nothing of narration or of eulogy to what has been said, and so well said. Mr. Sumner's life, his character and his services have been fittingly presented, and on both sides of the chamber. The generous voices of political opponents have followed the affectionate praises of devoted friends, and nothing remains but to close this sad and august observance. Yet something forbids my entire silence, and impels me to interpose a few sentences before the subject passes from the consideration of the Senate.

My acquaintance with Mr. Sumner commenced previous to my entrance into this body, where it ripened into a friendship which will always remain among the most agreeable recollections of my public liefe. I remained associated with him until every other seat in the chamber, except one, had changed its occupant, and eight new ones had been added. Some left us in the ordinary chances and changes of political fortunes; some were transferred to other departments of the public service; and of these some have returned again to the Senate; some, as Douglas, and Baker, and Collamer, and Foot, and Fessenden, fell, like Sumner, at their post, and like him, were borne to their final repose with all the demonstrations of public gratitude, of official respect, and of popular affection with which a generous constituency deccorates the memory of those whose lives have been spent in its service and who have worthilp worn its honors.

But Mr. Sumner's constituency was the Republic, wide as its farthest boundary and permeating its utmost limits; for he was conspicuously the representative of a principle which, although seminal in the organization of the government, was slow of growth and fructified largely under his care. When the intelligence of his death followed so close upon the first intimation of his danger, it fell with an equal shock upon all classes of society, upon "all sorts and conditions of men;" it invaded with equal sorrow the abodes of luxury and the cottages of the poor—

——pauperum tabernas,
Regumque turres.

The scholar closed his book and the laborer leaned upon his spade. The highest in the land mourned their peer, the lowest lamented their friend. How well his life had earned this universal testimony of respect; how naturally the broad sympathy which he had manifested for the wronged and the injured of every condition came back to honor his memory, it is not my purpose to enlarge upon. His eulogy is his life; his epitaph is the general grief; his monument, builded by his own hands, is the eternal statues of freedom.

Mr. President, when I look back over this long period, crowded with great events, and which has witnessed the convulsion of the nation, the reorganization and reconstruction of our political system, when, in my mind's eye, I people this Chamber with those whose forms have been familiar to me, whose names, many of them historical names, have been labeled on these desks and are now carved on the marble that covers their dust, I am filled with a sadness inexpressible, yet full of consolation.—For, musing on the transitory nature of all sublunary things, I come to perceive that their instability is not in their essence, but in the forms which they assume and in the agencies that operate upon them; and when I recall those whom I have seen fall around me, and whom I thought necessary to the success, almost to the preservation of great principles, I recall also those whom I have seen step into the vacant places, put on the armor which they wore, lift the weapons which they wielded, and march on to the consummation of the work which they inaugurated. And thus I am filled with reverent wonder at the benificent ordering of nature, and inspired with a loftier faith in that Almighty Power, without whose guidance and direction all human effort is vain, and with whose blessing the humblest instruments that He selects are equal to the mightiest work that He designs.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

Recollections of Other Days.

If you had only known Col. David Slash, who lives at Opelligga, (called Kurnel Dave for short,) you surely would have thought no high-toned-er genlman ever pulled a trigger. You can risk your bottom dollar that the niggers used to holler when they see the Kurnel come to stir them round. He could hit a silver dime with a rifle every time at sixty paces, sure as you're a sinner; and, I'm lying, p'raps you think, but by thunder he could drink twenty Bourbon straights afore he got his dinner. He always turned the joker; and he held such hands at poker that he gin'rally went it blind, and raised the ante; which reminds me of a game with a strange man who came one evening down at Major Russell's shanty.

We were sitting there—Judge Noyes, his two oldest grown up boys, Dr. Sanders, Cap'n Jenkins and his brother, the stranger, Dave, and me—when Colonel Dave, says he, "Come, gen'lmen, lets step up and have another." So we stepped up to the bar, had a drink and a cigar all round on the Kurnel's invitation; and everybody present felt agreeable and pleasant, and we had a reg'lar friendly conversation. Then the stranger chanced to say that he'd never learned to play draw poker, but he wished that he was able. "Well, in case you'd like to learn," says the Kurnel, "lets adjourn to the other room—there's candles and a table."

So we all with one accord sat down around the board, and who should get the deal but the stranger. Lor! he shuffled up the pack, and he dealt with such a knack, that I saw in a moment there was danger. Says the Kurnel, quite resigned, "I go twenty dollars blind. Let's see; I want one ke-ard, Mr. Dealer." Says the stranger, "Well, so be it. I reckon I can see it, and go you fifty better for a feeler." Then we all of us withdrew from that game except them two; but they went at it reg'lar business fashion. And I never shall forget the way they both did bet, till I saw the Kurnel getting in a passion. Says the stranger, with a frown. "There's a thousand dollars down on the table; that's my pile, Kurnel; size it." "Do you call me?" said the Kurnel, with a smile that was infernal. I'm a gen'lman. Where's the party who denies it?" The stranger, very cool, answered, "Kurnel, you're a fool. Show your cards. Gen'lmen, steady. Keep your places." Then down the Kurnel flings a seven and four kings, and the stranger, faintly smiling, shows four aces.

I disremember quite who it was blew out that light, as I swore next day afore the Cor'ner's jury. Mind, I saw no one begin it, but in another minute the pistol balls were going round like fury. As many as were able to get underneath the table; I shot up the chimney like a cinder; Cap'n Jenkins hugged the boor; the Judge slid out the door, and the doctor bolted smash through the window.

Well, the 'mount of it was this: The Kurnel didn't miss, though he fired in the dark. But what was funny, when he brought in the lamps and began to count the stamps, why the half of it was counterfeiter's money.

The Wealth of the State.

The Era says:—The town property of the State is valued at $13,855,079.

There are 25,502,707 acres of land in North Carolina, and its assessed valuation is $70,182,370.

There were in North Carolina in 1870. 229,789 persons over ten years of age who could not read.

The census of 1870 shows that we had in North Carolina at that time only 3,029 persons of foreign birth.

The population of North Carolina in 1870 was 1,071,361, or 678,470 whites, 391,650 colored.

The aggregate value of the farming utensils, money on hand, solvent credits, &c., listed in North Carolina in 1872 was $23,839,430.

The aggregate valuation of the land and town property of the State of North Carolina is put down at $83,987,448.

In 1872 the number of persons listed for poll tax in North Carolina was 126,876. Of this number 85,223 were whites and 41,653 colored.

The aggregate value of the horses, mules, cattle and live stock owned in North Carolina in 1872 was $16,994,578.

A Race of Men Who Have Not Yet Learned to Talk.

On the Island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Phillippine Islands. Terra del Fuego, and in South America. They walk, usually almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations, form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves, feed on snakes and vermin, on ant's eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with suprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds are like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captors, and the females show instincts of modesty. In fine these wretched beings are men and women.

Stephens on Grant.

A correspondent of the Petersburg News has interviewed Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, who thus expressed himself on Grant:

I have known him I may say intimately since the Commission went to Hampton Roads. I met him then at City Point. I regard him as a good and conscientious man, and believe he has the good of the country at heart.—The thousand things which have been said of him have been undeserved.—People should remember that he does not make bad laws, but only executes them. He has no discretion left him to do otherwise. I regard his recent acts looking to the restoration of the rights of the States as full of hope for the country. Grant means well, and if he could have controlled affairs we would have had far less trouble in our reconstruction.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
WILMINGTON, N, C., April 22, 1874.

NOTICE.

I WOULD MOST RESPECTFULLY CALL the attention of the citizens to the fact that the warm and sickly season is near at hand, and it becomes my duty to adopt the most stringent sanitary measures at this particular time to preserve the health of the city and prevent the introduction of disease that may originate from foul and unwholesome matter, filth, garbage, trash and refuse matter which has a tendency to create unwholesome and offensive odors. In order to prevent as far as possible the spread of those diseases peculiarly incident to this season of the year I would most respectfully solicit the co-operation of the citizens generally in placing our city in such a sanitary condition as to render it as far as practicable impregnable, at least to those diseases which originate from foul and unwholesome matter, To this end the entire force of the city will be employed in cleansing, draining, cleaning, disinfecting and removing trash, &c., for at least the next fifteen or twenty days. All persons are requested to have the trash, offal, refuse matter, &c., cleaned from their premises and placed upon the streets, whence they will be removed immediately. When it is convenient please use boxes or barrels.

Persons needing disinfectants can have the same free of charge by calling at my office.

The health officers, designated by a yellow rosette, may be notified of any stagnant water standing upon any lot, or damp cellar or anything that would impair the health of the city, and any complaint lodged at this office shall receive prompt attention.

Believing that a proper sanitary condition adopted now, at this early season, will insure a healthy summer I earnestly solicit the aid and co-operation of all the good citizens to accomplish this good end.

Respectfully, &c., GEO W. PRICE, Jr.,
april 23—tf City Marshal.

THE YOUTH'S

COMPANION

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR

Young People

AND THE FAMILY.

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the yonng folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sensible: and to have really permanent worth, while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are:

Edward Eggleston. Dr. I. I. Hayes, Prof. Jas. DeMille, Louise C. Moulton, Louisa M. Alcott, "Sophie May," Rebecca H. Davis, C. A. Stephens, C. W. Flanders, Ruth Chesterfield, S. S. Robbins, M. A. Denison.

Its reading is adapted to the old and young, is very varied in its character: sprightly and entertaining. It gives Stories of Adventure, Stories of Home and School Life, Letters of Travel, Tales, Poetry. Editorials upon current Topics, Selections for Declamation, Historical Articles, Anecdotes, Puzzles, Biographical Sketches, Facts and Incidents. Religious Articles,

Subscription Price, $1.50. Specimen copies sent free. Address,

THE EVENING POST.

E. B. SANDERS.

EDITOR AND MANAGER.

Published every evening, except Sunday, at Five Dollars per Annum.

The POST is designed to reach all classes of citizens, and its subscription price is therefore placed so low as to be within the reach of all. It contains the up to the time of going to press,

LATEST NEWS,

TELEGRAPHIC,
BY MAIL,
COMMERCIAL AND LOCAL

It should be in the hands of every man who desires to know what has transpired during the day, and, as it aims to give its publisher hopes it will prove a welcome guest in many families.

RELIABLE INTELLIGENCE,

THE POST

is sprightly without being sensational, and it carefully excludes all objectionable incidents and reports calculated to offend the sensibilities of the most fastidious. As an

Advertising Medium

it claims to be first class. It has a good and constantly increasing circulation, and is read by almost every business man in the city.

Politically the POST is

UNSWERVINGLY REPUBLICAN.

THE ADVERTISING RATES of the POST, like its subscription price, are at liberal and at living prices, as an examination of them will show, and it bespeaks a share of public patronage.

THE EVENING POST

is closely identified with the local welfare of the Cape Fear region, and the believers in progress, whether

EDUCATIONAL,
AGRICULTURAL,
MECHANICAL, or COMMERCIAL,

will find an enthusiastic ally in THE POST.

THE POST

is opposed to monopolies, but in favor of internal improvements, and a firm believer in the patronage and support of home enterprises and institutions.

Prospectus for 1874—Seventh year

THE ALDINE

An Illustrated Monthly journal, universally admitted to be Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or Music Stores

THE ALDINE while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The woodcuts of THE ALDIFE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALIENE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscribers to THE ALIENE will at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attraction any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountins New Hampshire the other gives the Cliffs, of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves in a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12 x 16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr Moran himself.

NEWARK, N.J., Sept 20th,

Messrs. JAMES SUTTON & Co.

Gentlemen,—I am delighted with proofs the color of your chromos. They wonderfully successful representation by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully,
(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American, They are by an original American process. with ma terial of American manufacture. from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscribers should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14 x 20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free.

For 50 Cents Extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

THE SUN.

—:o:—

WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation, but the reasons which have already given it fifty thousand subscribers, and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more are briefly as follows,

It is a first rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when o moment, and always presented in a clear intelligible, and interesting manner.

It is a first rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste.

It is a first rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is a first rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no color.—It fights for principle, and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions for the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cattle markets, to which it pays particular attention.

Finally, it is the cheapest paper pulished. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year.

We have no traveling agents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty six columns. Only $1 00 a year. No discounts from this rule.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2 00 a year. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of 10 or over.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large four page newspaper of twenty eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for 2 cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6 00 a year. To clubs of 10 or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address,

Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Prof Huxley, Lord Lytton, Fritz Reuter, Mrs Oliphant, Dr W. B. Carpenter, C. Kingsley, Erckmann Chatrain, Ivan Turguenieff, Matthew Arnold, W. E. H. Lecky, Miss Thackeray, Miss Muloch, Prof. Richard A. Proctor, Katharine C. Macquoid, Jean Ingelow, Geo. MacDonald, Froude, and Gladstone, are some of the eminent authors lately represented in the pages of

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

A weekly magazine of sixty-four pages, THE LIVING AGE gives more than THREE AND A QUARTER THOUSAND double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly, forming four large volumes. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

A NEW SERIES

Was begun Jan. 1, 1873, with entirely new Tales, already embracing Serial and Short Stories by distinguished English, French, German, and Russian authors; viz., Lord Lytton (Bulwer,) Erckmann-Chatrian, Ivan Turguenieff, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Oliphant, Fritz Reuter, Mrs Parr (author of "Dorothy Fox") Julia Kavanagh, &c.

During the coming year, as heretofore, the choicest serial and short stories by the Leading Foreign Authors will be given, together will an amount unapproached by any other periodical in the world, of the best literary and scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the above-named and other foremost Essayists Scientists, Critics, Discoverers, and Editors, representing every department of knowledge and progress.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only complete as well as fresh compilation of a generally inaccessible but indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of THE ABLEST LIVING WRITERS in all branches of Literature, Science, Art, and Politics,—is sufficiently indicated by the following

OPINIONS.

"Reproduces the best thoughts of the best minds of the civilized world, upon all topics of living interest."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"In no other single publication can there be found so much of sterling literary excellence."—The Nation, New York.

"And the cheapest. A monthly that comes every week."—THE ADVANCE, CHICAGO.

"The ablest essays, the most entertaining stories, the finest poetry of the English language, are here gathered together."—Illinois State Journal.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, history, politics, and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"In view of all the competitors in the field, I should certainly chose "The Living Age"—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

"The best periodical in America."—Rev. Dr. Cuyler.

"Has no equal in any country."—Phila. Press.

"Indispensable to every one who desires a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

THE LIVING AGE is sent a year (52 numbers,) postpaid, on receipt of $8; or six copies for $40.

☞ EXTRA OFFERS FOR 1874.

To new subscribers, now remitting $8 for the year 1874, the last six numbers of 1873 will be sent gratis; or to those wishing to begin with the New Series, the numbers of 1873 and 1874 (104 numbers), will be sent for $13; or, to those preferring, the publishers make the following

Club prices for the best home and Foreign Literature.

("Possessed of THE LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation.") Phila. Bulletin.

For $10, any one of the American $4 Monthlies (or Harper's Bazar, or Appleton's Journal, weekly) is sent with THE LIVING AGE for a year; or, for $9, THE LIVING AGE and Scribner's St Nicholas; or, for $8.50, THE LIVING AGE and Our Young Folks.
